WILL DEDICATE THE BUILDING SATURDAY

Uncle Sam's New Forest Products Laboratory To Be Formally Opened This Week.

The new forest products laboratory at Madison in which is concentrated all the experimental work of the United States Forest Service will be dedicated June 4 with appropriate exercises in which Gov. James Davidson, Chief Forester Henry H. Graves, President Charles H. Van Hise of the University of Wisconsin, Capt. J. H. White, chairman of the conservation committee of the National Lumber Manufacturers' Association, and A. C. Hastings, president of the American Paper and Pulp Association, will take part. A special train from Chicago will bring a large number of business men and manufacturers interested in the work of the new laboratory.

Save the Waste. Two-thirds of every tree felled, according to the latest reports of the United States Forest Service, is now being wasted, and it is to prevent this needless waste and utilize if possible every part of the tree that the new laboratory has been established.

The making of cheaper print paper from wood other than spruce and hemlock, the distillation of wood alcohol from stumps and other waste products, the manufacture of turpentine, and the protection of wood against insect and fungus destroyers are among the problems which the new laboratory will attack.

Cheaper Print Paper. The problem of making satisfactory print paper from other wood pulp besides that of spruce and hemlock will receive particular attention. For this purpose a complete paper-making plant has been installed in the laboratory. Every process from the manufacture of wood pulp to the final running of the paper through the finishing rolls can be tested carefully and the exact value of the substitute materials for spruce and hemlock studied.

Investigation in Wood Work. In the new laboratory the U. S. Forest Service and the University of Wisconsin will cooperate in the investigations which will be made of those problems of the lumbermen, paper makers, manufacturing chemists and other wood working industries.

The building, a three-story brick structure, was erected by the University of Wisconsin at a cost of $75,000. The equipment, part of which was in use at the discontinued laboratories at Purdue, Yale, and Washington, D. C., is valued at $75,000, and is furnished by the U. S. Forest Service.

Government Experts. The director of the laboratory is McGarvey Klein, a graduate of Purdue University; the assistant directors are H. S. Bristol and H. S. Wolske, both Yale men. The other members of the staff are: H. D. Tienmann, Stevens Institute of Technology, in charge of technology; Ralph Thelen, University of California, mechanical engineer; W. H. Kemper, University of Michigan, in charge of maintenance; Edwin Sutermeister, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, in charge of wood pulp laboratory; E. Bateman, Yale, in charge of chemistry; L. H. Hawley, Cornell, in charge of wood distillation; Frederick Dunlap, Cornell, in charge of kiln drying operations; F. W. Bond, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, in charge of wood preservation; C. T. Barnum, Cornell, C. P. Winslow, Yale, engineers in wood preservation; J. A. Newlin, Purdue, in charge of the boiler tests; H. E. Surface, Ohio State University, engineer in wood chemistry; H. E. McKenzie, University of Maine, engineer in timber tests; C. J. Humphrey, University of Nebraska and Cornell, pathologist; and A. W. Schorger, Ohio State University, chemist.

Lecture on Forestry Subjects. Besides their investigative work, the experts on the staff will lecture on forestry and allied subjects to students of the University of Wisconsin, and advanced students will have an opportunity to use the laboratory and its equipment for carrying on research work in wood products.

Up For Drunkenness. John Kendrick, who is known by the name "Mysterious," pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness in municipal court this morning and a fine and costs amounting to $4 was levied against him. The case was adjourned one week to permit him to get back to the farm on the Johnston road and earn the money.

Servant's Humorous Error. Mr. Smith, an American traveler, arrived one day in Berlin. On the way he picked up a smart German as a servant. In Berlin, every one staying at a hotel is obliged to register his name and occupation in a book which is kept for police examination, so Mr. Smith told his servant Fritz to bring this book for him to write his name. "I have already registered myself," said Fritz, "as an American gentleman of independent means." "But I've never told you my name, so how do you know what it is?" I copied it from Miller's portmanteau," answered Fritz. "Why, it isn't on my portmanteau," cried Mr. Smith, "bring the book and let me see what you have put down." The book was brought, and Mr. Smith, to his amusement, discovered that his clever servant had described him as "Monsieur Warranted Solid Leather!"

Hide Dismal Secrets. In England there are hundreds of ancient buildings which possess their secret passages, and during excavations in London long-forgotten tunnels are often encountered. Underneath Lamore castle, Ireland, one of the seats of the Duke of Devonshire, are one or two curious secret tunnels leading to subterranean caves in which skeletons and uniforms have been found.

For This, Much Thanks. There is one thing about an egotistical person: he is not talking about his neighbors.—Boston Post.

TAFT'S SECRETARY SON OF A FORMER LOCAL MINISTER

Father of Charles Dyer Norton, Newly Appointed to Important Post, Lived in Janesville.

Charles Dyer Norton, whom President Taft has chosen as private secretary to succeed Frederick W. Custer, now United States Minister to Morocco, is the son of Frank H. Norton, at one time Congregational minister in this city. Many old residents remember Dyer Norton who made many friends during his residence in this city during the sixties and a number remember his son, who accompanied his father on visits here.

Taft's present secretary, was born at Burlington, Vt., March 12, 1871, a few years after his parents left Janesville. His father preached for a number of years, and was pastor at Beloit, and other Wisconsin cities in addition to Janesville. In the late sixties, Rev. Norton's library was destroyed by fire and he left the ministry to become station agent of the Milwaukee road at Burlington. Charles Dyer Norton is also a nephew of the late Charles E. Dyer, for many years on the federal bench and latterly counsel for the Northwestern Mutual Insurance company.

While his father was preaching at Janesville he made the intimate acquaintance of Willard Morrill, who afterward became vice-president of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company, and when young Norton had finished his common school education at Burlington, he came to the Northwestern home office under the guardianship of Mr. Morrill. He started at the bottom of the ladder as a stamp clerk, but gradually worked along until he held quite a responsible position for one so young.

He left the office in 1899 and went to Amesbury, where he tutored in Europe for about a year, when he returned to Wisconsin and engaged with the Milwaukee agency of the Northwestern as a solicitor. It is no secret around Washington that much is expected of Mr. Norton as secretary to the president, and he was personally selected by the president as the right person to fill a big man's job. Mr. Norton, who has "made good," as assistant secretary of the treasury, is expected to bring out a good many of the wrinkles that are now in the president's path.

REPUBLICANS IN CAUCUS

AGREE ON POSTAL BILL

Ask for Prompt Passage of Savings Bank Measure—Southwick (N. Y.) Bots.

Washington, June 2.—The Republicans of the house went squarely on record last night for prompt passage of the postal savings bank bill, which is part of President Taft's legislative program. The bill was finally agreed on at a four-hours' caucus, at which the following resolution, submitted by Representative Tawney of Minnesota, was adopted.

"Resolved, That the postal savings bank bill agreed on by this caucus be and the same is hereby adopted, that the time be reported by the committee on post offices and post roads, and that it is the sense of this caucus that a rule be reported from the committee on rules for its consideration in the house."

The caucus was largely attended, and the only bolt was by Representative Southwick of New York, who vehemently denounced the bill as radically socialist and withdrew, declaring his intention to fight it on the floor of the house.

The bill establishes postal savings depositories for depositing savings at interest, with the security of the government for repayment.

The caucus fixed at 65 per cent, the amount of the funds placed in the postal savings banks that must remain on deposit in banks in each state and territory and 30 per cent, as the proportion of such funds that the trustees may withdraw for investment in United States securities. The other five per cent. must be held as a permanent reserve in the United States treasury.

$1,000,000 OF PANAMA SEIZED.

Hate Held Up in New York by Government Agents.

New York, June 2.—Two-thirds of the Panama hats depended upon by jobbers and retailers to fill their orders for the summer season have been seized by the government here. The seizure is said to be worth more than one million dollars. Special agents of the treasury department, who have been investigating the trade in Panama hats for some months, say that they found an old-fashioned, easy-going set of methods in vogue in the customs house that did not suit them. For instance, it was learned that appraisals often were made on the bill of lading value without further examination. The seizure resulted.

Compromise Is Effected.

Detroit, Mich., June 2.—The threatened tie-up of the Detroit United Railway company's city lines was definitely averted when the company's motormen and conductors, who have been seeking a flat wage scale of 30 cents per hour, voted to accept a compromise offered by the company.

NO PLACE FOR HAUGHTY MAN

Aged Servitor's Caution Couched with Little Sentiment and Much Sense.

A haughty citizen once strolled into the supreme court at Washington when an argument was being heard and took a seat in the enclosure reserved for lawyers. After he had been there a few minutes an attendant came over and asked him: "Are you a member of the bar?"

The haughty person wasn't, but he took out his card with a flourish and handed it over.

The attendant received the card gravely, carried it to the clerk, who glanced at it and gave some instructions.

A moment later the haughty citizen was touched on the shoulder and asked to retire.

"Why?" he asked. "I sent up my card. It usually gives me a seat in any court in the land."

"Certainly," said the attendant; "but please retire."

The haughty citizen did retire. When he got out in the corridor he fumed and fussed a bit.

"Sir," admonished the aged negro at the door, who has been there for many years, "think it over. Don't do no persiflage 'bout that cot. If you should get in contempt of them you ain't got nobody to appeal to but God."—Saturday Evening Post.

STATE'S ATTORNEY BURKE INVITES GOVERNOR TO APPEAR BEFORE GRAND JURY.

HAS INTIMATED HE WOULD

Prosecutor Puts Desk-Deal Witness Out of Jurors' Room Following Clash—Beckemeyer to Testify—Washington Inquiry Is Halted.

Springfield, Ill., June 2.—Governor Deneen was today visited by State's Attorney Burke to ask the chief executive of the state to appear before the Sangamon county grand jury, which is investigating the senatorial bribery scandal, and tell what he knows concerning the way certain bills were passed or killed in the senate and house during the last regular session of the legislature. The governor has intimated that he would be willing to appear before the jury.

Representative H. J. C. Beckemeyer, who confessed to having received $300 in the "jack pot" and $1,000 to vote for Lorimer, will this afternoon go before the grand jury. Beckemeyer was given permission to come to Springfield by State's Attorney Wayman of Cook county.

Johnston Is Thrown Out. Archibald B. Johnston of the Johnston Hatcher company of Springfield, who made the "deal" with the committee to buy the capital stock and according to the confessions of Senator Holshausen and Otto M. Freiler bribed a majority of the committee, was thrown out of the grand jury room on orders from Burke.

Johnston was called as a witness and asked several questions about the deal. At the final stage in the questioning he said to Burke:

"Henry Dirksen started you on all this investigation to put up a job on me."

"Ballin," said Burke, "throw the witness out."

The ballin, Henry Bogardus, threw Johnston through the side door. The grand jury wanted to indict Johnston at once but it was understood Burke told them it would be better not to act in anger so the indictment may not come for a day or so.

Representative Staymates Testifies. Representative B. F. Staymates of Clinton county, who was subpoenaed by Burke, appeared before the grand jury. He is a Democrat and voted for Lorimer. Burke asked him why he voted for Lorimer and his reply was exactly the same as Senator Holshausen's before the latter confessed to having been bribed.

"I voted for Lorimer because I wanted to break the deadlock," was Staymates' answer.

Washington Investigation Halted. Washington, June 2.—No investigation will be made regarding the charges of bribery and corruption in connection with the election of Senator William Lorimer of Illinois until specific allegations are made in due form. This is the conclusion which has been reached by the committee on privileges and elections, which will undertake the inquiry when it is made.

The committee, of which Senator Burrows is chairman, went on the theory that up to this time no charge has been made against Mr. Lorimer except those contained in a newspaper. It was considered undesirable to take up allegations made in the press and thus establish a dangerous precedent. The resolution offered by Mr. Lorimer merely provided for an investigation of the newspaper charges. For these reasons, the committee decided to wait until regular and definite charges were filed.

Polish Wrestler Proves No Match for American Champion.

Chicago, June 2.—Frank Gotch, champion of all champions at the wrestling game, easily Zbyzsko, his Polish challenger of the mat crown, look like a tyro at the game of grapple at the Coliseum last night by easily throwing the European twice inside of a half hour.

Gotch threw the gigantic Galician with the most ridiculous ease in the first bout in 1/4 seconds.

Frank rushed out of his corner when time was called and upset the Pole with that great American school-boy hold, i. e., diving for the legs.

In the second bout Gotch allowed the Pole to get behind him once or twice, but Frank was never within comet distance of danger and toyed with the Pole.

NEW STATE HOUSE DEDICATED.

Elaborate Ceremony Opens Kentucky Capitol Building at Frankfort.

Frankfort, Ky., June 2.—Kentucky's magnificent new capitol building was dedicated today in the presence of a large gathering of prominent men and other citizens and with elaborate ceremony. The exercises began with the firing of a signal gun early in the morning and will not conclude until a late hour tonight.

The principal address of the day was made by Senator W. O. Bradley, who was introduced to the assembly by Governor Willson. The singing by the girls of the Louisville high school and the patriotic music by the band were among the features of the exercises. During the afternoon the building and offices were open for inspection by the visitors. From 7:30 p. m. until 11 p. m. the state reception will be held in the capitol building.

GOLDEN RULE CHIEF ASSAILED.

Chief of Police Frederick Kohler.

Cleveland, O.—Chief of Police Frederick Kohler, known throughout the country as the "Golden Rule" chief and lauded by President Roosevelt as the best chief of police in the country, was suspended this week by Mayor Baehr on charges of gross immorality, habitual drunkenness and disobedience of orders.

The tentative date of Tuesday has been set for Chief Kohler's trial by the civil service commission, and statements by Kohler and his accusers today point to the development of sensational testimony which may involve many of the city's prominent men.

Mr. Kohler has intimated that he intends to fight the charges against him to a finish and that if he is disgraced he will not be the only one to fall. He has retained one of the best known criminal lawyers in Ohio as his counsel.

Among the charges brought against Kohler is one that during the seven years which he has been at the head of the police department he has utilized the detective force for the collection of facts concerning prominent officials and others to be used in the event that he was attacked.

The present charges are the culmination of a long series of attacks against the police chief.

Chief Kohler joined the police force as a patrolman 14 years ago. Under Mayor Tom Johnson his rise was rapid. He was appointed chief in 1903 and since then has attracted national attention by his policy of the "golden rule." Briefly, this policy was that in the case of minor offenses, such as intoxication or disorderly conduct, it was better to admonish the offender and persuade him to go home than to arrest him. His opponents have accused him of having increased criminality by this policy.

GOVERNMENT BEGINS LUMBER TRUST WAR.

Below, Fredrick Weyerhaeuser, wealthy lumberman alleged to be head of lumber combine, and at top, Attorney General Wickersham, who has begun investigation into the affairs of the lumber trust.

Washington, D. C.—The $10,000,000 lumber combine which, it is said, controls the whole pine industry, is now under government investigation, due to the high cost of building materials. The combine is dominated by a coterie of lumbermen, with headquarters in Chicago. Frederick Weyerhaeuser, who is reputed to be richer than Rockefeller, is credited with being the head of the combine. P. B. Walker is the largest individual owner of standing white pine timber in the world. Edward Helms of the Helms Lumber company and the Johnson-Wentworth lumber company are all interested in this organization which controls 3,000,000,000 feet of white pine.

It is the intention of Attorney General Wickersham to begin action if his investigation into the affair proves that a combination actually exists in restraint of trade.

SOUTHERN WIS. ASSOCIATION IN ANNUAL SESSION.

HOLD CLINICS TOMORROW

Visitors Welcomed by President Cleopha of Beloit at City Hall Assembly Room This Afternoon.

About a score of the members of the Southern Wisconsin Dental association arrived with the half-storm this morning to attend the sixteenth annual meeting which was formally opened at the city hall assembly room this afternoon, and the number of visitors was materially increased by arrivals on the noon train. Representatives of the various dental and drug supply houses were on hand early with their trunks and crates of exhibits and samples for free distribution and the council chamber was turned over to their uses. Four dental chairs have been set up in the convention hall for the clinics which take place tomorrow and the program promises many very interesting demonstrations.

Tomorrow's Session.
Those who are to conduct the clinics which begin at nine o'clock tomorrow morning are: Dr. Marvin S. Hamford of Rockford, Dr. E. H. Allen of Freeport, Dr. M. R. Horned of Rockford, Dr. Carl B. Case, Dr. W. E. Handy, Dr. A. J. Kuhnemann, Dr. Raymond J. Winkler of Milwaukee, Dr. P. T. Van Ornum of Racine, Dr. C. B. Bradley of Beloit, Dr. T. M. Savage of Plattville, Dr. C. E. Perry of Milton, Dr. G. H. Thuermer, Dr. J. R. Whitton and Dr. M. H. Michels of Janesville, Dr. S. H. Chase of Madison, Dr. H. G. Morton and Arthur A. Jennings of Milwaukee. At half past one o'clock the masters of clinics—Dr. L. H. Holmquist and T. F. Kennedy of Janesville—will make their reports; the next place of meeting will be decided upon; and officers will be elected for the ensuing year.

Convention Opened.
The executive committee consisting of Drs. R. J. Hart and C. C. Dovernaux of Janesville and Adolph Groppner of Milwaukee was busy welcoming the visitors and perfecting all of the arrangements this forenoon.

The session was opened with a prayer by the Very Rev. Dean E. E. Kelly. Mayor W. F. Curtis in a few well chosen words welcomed the visitors to Janesville and the president, Dr. G. O. Cleopha of Beloit, delivered the response. Dr. W. G. Hales of Mineral Point gave the treasurer's report for the year. Dr. C. W. Collier of Clinton, secretary of the association, called the roll about three o'clock and found about forty present.

Among the visiting dentists whose names have not been mentioned heretofore are the following: Dr. Adolph Groppner, Dr. P. J. Brandenberg, and Dr. C. B. Case of Milwaukee; Dr. W. J. Morgan of Mineral Point, Dr. J. H. Reed of Lancaster, Dr. T. M. Welch of Waupun, Dr. P. A. Howell of Beloit, Dr. Lyons and Kirkpatrick of Brodhead, and Dr. Rice of Delavan.

Eaco Flour

"The best and goes farthest."
Repeated tests in which the various flours were unknown by the baker, proved one after another, that in each case Eaco made by far the more loaves.

The most extravagant claim made for any flour is that it is as good as Eaco.

That is very flattering. Why not buy Eaco and be done with experiment.

WEE FOLKS BAND AT A HAPPY GATHERING

Semi-Annual Meeting of the Little Company Was Held Yesterday Afternoon.

The semi-annual meeting of the Wee Folks' Band of the First Congregational church was held on Wednesday afternoon with a very large attendance of some 130 babies and infants and about one hundred mothers and friends. The children brought their missionary money, $21.50, and kindergarten games with stereoscopic views of Japan and its children people the afternoon. Mrs. Frank Spoon, Mrs. Arphand and Mrs. Botsford, with the assistants, are to be congratulated on the fine record of work done during the past six months and the mothers certainly showed their hearty appreciation of what was done for them. Refreshments were served and the children did full justice to the sandwiches and ice cream cones. Dr. Denton gave an address on the pictures and babies of Japan.

Candidates For Positions Were Given Try-Out—Association Will Have Strong Nine.

Members of the squad who are trying for positions on the Y. M. C. A. basketball team of the Commercial league held a practice at Athletic Park yesterday afternoon. The association has two candidates for the position of catcher, Murray and Leonard and those were given a try-out. Kistler, a south-paw, who has considerable speed and a number of curves, will probably be the regular pitcher. The question of who shall secure the place behind the bat will probably be decided by one of the candidates proving his superiority in "holding" Kistler. Members of the association say a strong team will be put in the field for the opening game of the league next Saturday.

School Picnic: The joint picnic of district schools 5 and 6 will be held tomorrow afternoon at Charlton's woods. It was erroneously stated yesterday that the picnic would be today.

HEAVYWEIGHT SHOWING GOOD FORM.
Andy Morris, promising Heavyweight of Boston.

Boston, Mass.—Boston fight fans are looking for a promising heavyweight—a youngster who has done good work in the ring, and one who has proved to be a clever boxer as well as a two-handed fighter. He is Andy Morris and he is under the management of Eddie Mack, a well-known handler of boxers.

No heavyweight developed in recent years has made the rapid strides as has Morris. Within a short time he has whipped Al Kubiak, the "Michigan Giant," bested Jack Fitzgerald, the fighting Irishman of Philadelphia, and whipped Billy Madden. He has also held the middle and heavyweight amateur titles of New England. Andy Morris has been out of the amateur ranks just one year and in all his bouts he has displayed class.

MANY GREAT POLITICAL BATTLES STAGED FOR THIS FALL.

Washington, D. C.—In thirty states senators will be elected by the legislature this fall. In every state congressional fight will hold the spotlight until after election. Many preliminary skirmishes in those great battles have been fought in many states, and men are being groomed by their respective organizations for the great contest.

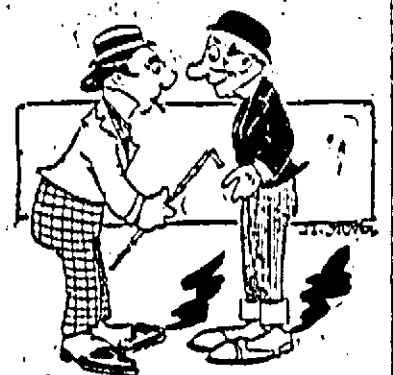

Among the senators whose terms expire March 3, 1911, are such well known figures as Nelson W. Aldrich of Rhode Island, Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana, Julius Caesar Burrows of Michigan, Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, John Kean of New Jersey, Nathan B. Scott of West Virginia, Chauncey M. Depew of New York, Eugene Hale of Maine, Charles Dick of Ohio. There are many aspirants for the senatorial toga in each state. Senator Aldrich will have a hard fight on his hands in Rhode Island. Among those frequently suggested as his opponent in the coming fight is Governor Potliver. The governor declares he will not lift a finger to secure Aldrich's seat, but his friends are so persistent in urging him forward that he may be forced into the fight.

Another governor who may make the run for the senate is Franklin Murphy of New Jersey. From a reliable source it has been learned that within two weeks he will announce his candidacy to succeed John Kean at the hands of the legislature to be elected this fall. Former Governor E. C. Stokes is out after the toga with a direct appeal to the people, in accordance with the direct vote idea.

In Michigan, Senator Burrows has a number of opponents, among whom is Congressman Charles Townsend, the father of President Taft's railroad bill in the house.

Senator Lodge will have as his opponent Eugene N. Fox, democrat, who has just been elected to the United States congress in a strongly PLAY BALL—See ad elsewhere.

It has been estimated that the fertile lands of the globe amount to 28,000,000 square miles, the steppes to 14,000,000, and the deserts to 1,000,000. Fixing 207 persons to the square mile for fertile lands, ten for steppes, and one for deserts, as the greatest population that the earth could properly nourish, the conclusion has been arrived at that, when the number of inhabitants reaches about 6,000,000,000 our planet will be peopled to its full capacity. At present it contains a little more than one-quarter of that number. If the rate of increase shown by recent censuses should be uniformly maintained, it is thought that the globe would be fully peopled about the year 2072.

Peat Not Good Fuel.

Experiments made last year on the Swedish railroads in regard to the possibility of employing peat as a fuel for locomotives of various types have not given the results which were hoped for. On the contrary, they show that the locomotives now in use are not suitable for the employment of peat, unless this is mixed with a large proportion of other fuel. In consequence of these results, the engineers of the Swedish government railways are engaged in designing locomotives better adapted for the combustion of peat and with these locomotives the experiments will be continued.

Don't Forget That—

A talker is to be trusted only so long as he holds within hearing distance.

Fireworks Scare Wild Geese.

The great grain fields of the Sandborn ranch in Shasta county, California, are ingeniously protected at night from the vast flocks of wild geese and other aquatic fowl that do immense damage to crops, by means of a display of fireworks. Skyrockets and Roman candles were bought in large quantities by the management of the ranch, and men are stationed at various points. Whenever a flock is heard "honking" in the distance, several skyrockets or a shower of colored balls from a Roman candle are sent upward, and as a result, the birds give the ranch a wide berth.

Ended All Argument.

"The citizens of Christiania have had a queer experience," writes a correspondent from the Norwegian capital. "An enterprising business concern erected in the Karl Johann street, the principal promenade, a heroic statue of Mercury, for advertising purposes. The figure was so scantily draped that some citizens protested, with the result that the police furnished drapery, which was torn away on the first night. A close watch was placed on the statue, which was once more clothed and again stripped. To end discussion, the police received orders to remove the statue, and now both parties claim a victory."

He Will Not Get Mad.

How to Fasten Handles on Umbrellas.
Sometimes a person would like to change some expensive umbrella handle to another, umbrella and fasten it on solid. This can be done by cleaning out the hole left in the handle from the old rod and filling the hole with powdered sulphur. Place the handle in a solid, upright position, and after heating the umbrella rod red hot push the rod down into the hole containing the sulphur. The hot rod fuses the sulphur, and when cold it will hold the rod solid. This method may be applied to fastening rods into stone, iron or wood.

"LET'S."
That isn't a very long word, is it? and yet I have an idea the habitual use of it would sometimes save a good deal of trouble. When I asked a nice little woman whose married life is marvellously happy, to kindly give me some of the secrets of this happiness that I might pass them along to you among other things, she gave the credit to that word "Let's."

"Now, you mustn't laugh," she said, "when I tell you that one of the things that made the most difference in our married life was John's learning to say 'Let's.'"

"You see, when he was courting me and when we were first married, I noticed that whenever he had any plan in his mind, he would always speak of it like this, 'When we are married, Lucy, I think we will go South on our honeymoon,' and then later, 'When we have the half dollar over we will have a much lighter paper.'"

"Usually this suggestion would be something I would entirely agree with. Often it would be a plan for my pleasure, and yet there was something in that calm assumption that I simply couldn't stand. I don't believe that I am any more independent or obstreperous than most women. But I didn't like to have anybody else saying what I'd do, or wouldn't do, without consulting me at all."

Maybe you think I was perfectly absurd, but I couldn't help it. That way of John's was on me and wore on me until I grew perfectly hateful about it.

"Often when he'd say, 'I think, Lucy, we will do this or that,' I'd up and argue against it, even when it was something I really wanted to do, just because that way of putting it riled me so."

"I don't suppose that you will believe it, but we had a perfect tornado one day when John said, 'We'll keep the phunks down later this year.' I wanted them down, because if you take them up people track in a lot of dirt, but the minute he said that, I made up my mind we'd have them up right away, and I was so obstinate and silly about it that for almost the first time since we were married, John and I real put out with me."

"It was the best thing that could have happened, though, for it ended in my having a crying spell and weeping out on John's shoulder what all the trouble was, and telling him that if he would say 'Let's' instead of 'We will,' I was sure I would be glad to do anything he wanted."

"John laughed a little when I got over my crying fit, but he said he'd try, and he did. And now he never thinks of saying anything else when he wants to suggest something."

"A little thing, my dear, I know. But what else is the happiness of married life but a tissue of little things—little things remembered and little things given up, little things said, and little things left unsaid, and little things forgiven."

"Choose a man that says 'Let's' my dear, or else—teach him to—that's my advice."

And pretty good advice, I fancy.

"Let's" is just a little word, but the spirit of it is a very big spirit. Not only in matrimony, but also in other relations.

You can lead a halcyon horse when you cannot drive him. You can often lead the sensitive, difficult child by the lead rein of "Let's," when you cannot drive him, with the whip and rein of "Do" and "Don't."

You may be able to win the hearty cooperation of your office force by an occasional "Let's" when the perpetual "Do" would win you only eye service.

"LET'S"—yes, it's a very, very little word, but don't allow it on that account to slip down out of sight in the crevices in your memory.

NATIONAL TENNIS CHAMPION GOES EAST TO DEFEND TITLE.

Miss Hazel Hotchkiss.

San Francisco, Cal.—Miss Hazel Hotchkiss, the national champion, and recent conqueror of the former world's champion, Miss Stinson, is going east to defend her title. The tournament will be held the last week in June. Miss Hotchkiss is looked upon as almost certain of success, for she is playing in great form.

OUR OWN HAPPINESS.

By MARY RUSSELL.
It is thought that you send out into the world that returns to you laden with love or hate.

If you are a lover of your kind—your kind will love you. It is only in novels that the cold and haughty heroine is the one who holds hearts as footballs, which she plays. The best beloved people of the world are the ones that love the most. That sounds like sentimentality, in fact it is not sentiment. For loving does not mean the constant exchange of affectionate terms. It is not expressed in words alone. The greatest and truest lovers of the world are often the silent ones.

The people who do things for love's sake—the people who think loving thoughts—these are the ones that win love in abundance.

We are beginning to realize that the exterior counts but little when weighed in the balances with the soul or the mind. Soul and mind and heart are the great trinity of life that makes the world worth while.

Do not think that I mean that it is not necessary to say the word of love. I believe that many a heart breaks because the word is not said. But neither do I think that words are enough.

To some the affectionate terms of love are second nature. The dear and darling are like the small change of commerce—sprinkled through every day and with no discrimination.

That is not living—it is just an easy good nature allowed to run to waste. But the loving words that swell from a heart that is full to overflowing—that is what counts when it goes hand in hand with the deed of love.

I know a man who was consigned to this count from a foreign land. It had been his mother's custom to gather the little children of the poor together at Christmas time and make their hearts glad with gifts and feasting.

He loved his mother with all the tenderness of a great nature, and when he lost her he felt the world was darkened for him—and for those others who knew and loved her.

In memory of her he gathers together the little waifs of the street wherever he may be and makes the holiday season bright for them. It is a sacred obligation to him. An act of love. He has never forgotten nor allowed any social affair to take him from this simple rite in memory of one who was "a friend to all the world."

That is love. She loved greatly and her very name is beloved. Was not that worth living for? And even worth dying for as well?

Then give wisely and freely and thoughtfully of the best within your heart, and the best will come to you.

SICKROOM COMFORTS

Simple Device That Brings Relief to the Invalid.

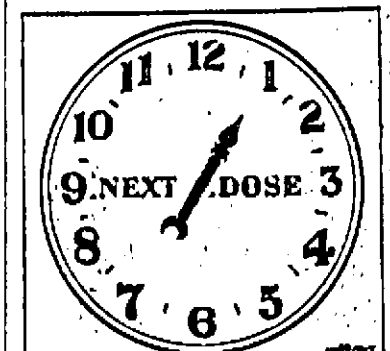

THE USEFUL MEDICINE DISK.

An Invention For Moving Patient From One Side of Bed to the Other—Home-made Pillow Prop Constructed From Boards.

There are many little necessities that add comfort and convenience to an invalid's room and are particularly easy of construction, which fact is always a recommendation to practical women.

For the home nurse the difficulty of remembering when the next dose must be given has a happy solution in a register for medicine doses that can be made of stiff cardboard.

Cut a disk of heavy cardboard that will be a little larger than a glass in which any water or medicine might be kept. Mark upon it the numbers of the hours and the half and quarter spaces. The little convenient arrow can be cut of stiff colored cardboard and fastened in the center with a brass paper clamp or a bent steel nail. Mark on the disk the words, "Next dose," and all that is necessary is the indication by the arrow of the time when the next dose of medicine is to be given. Two or more of these can be made if the medicine be of different kinds.

For moving a person from one side of the bed to the other an arrangement known as the "draw sheet" should be used. The ordinary sheet folded in three should be placed across the bed over the other sheet. The ends should hang over the sides of the bed, and when moving the invalid they are lifted up, forming a muslin slide that moves the person quickly and easily to the other side of the bed. To any one who has realized how difficult a feat the moving of a body is to the unprofessional this suggestion will come as a boon.

A pillow prop made of three boards nailed together at the edges is here shown. Its simplicity is obvious. The slant of the board that will support the body will determine the length of the other two. Nail the three in place. The boards need not be heavy, for the shape of the structure insures a firm support. It is a more convenient form than the upturned chair used by so many.

When the weight of the bedclothes is too uncomfortable a wire support can be constructed of thick wire, bent into an arched shape and fastened together by two or three wires. At each end the pieces of wire should be bent back to form clips that can slip under the frame of the mattress.

These are but a few suggestions for making the long hours less wearisome for the invalid and more convenient for the caretakers. The time required for the making of these articles can never be weighed against the inestimable comfort that results.

How to Keep Fingers Smooth.

The base of the average sewer or embroiderer is the roughened first finger. This is particularly trying when one is using embroidery silks, which catch and roughen easily. To keep the hands in good condition wash them carefully before beginning work and rub off all roughness with a fine pumice stone. Then wash off with a little acetic acid, which can be bought at any drug store. If this is not at hand a good cider vinegar answers the same purpose and makes the skin soft and smooth.

How to Wash Ruchings.

Put the ruching in a wide mouthed bottle or jar and cover with gasoline. Cover and let it set about two hours. Shake thoroughly and pour off the gasoline, rubbing a little between the hands if necessary. If a little stiffness is desired, rinse in clear water to which a spoonful of sugar has been added and dry without wringing.

How to Clean Net.

To clean delicate net yokes and waists make a thick paste of flour and gasoline. Use the paste with a small stiff brush and rub well. Leave a thick coating of the paste on to dry. When the gasoline has evaporated the flour will brush out, leaving the net clean and white.

How to Can Corn.

To eight pints of corn cut from the cob put one pint of salt. Cover with water, heat thoroughly and can with water to cover corn. Put sugar to it before it goes to the table, as it improves it.

How to Strengthen Facial Muscles.

When one is very tired and the facial muscles seem to be twisted into a tight knot, try mopping them with a soft sponge or cloth wet with very cold water. Besides resting the muscles of the face, the cold water acts as a tonic. Here is a tip for the woman who feels herself a "sight" from fatigue. Not only will she feel rested after her cold mopping, but the tiny wrinkles and tired lines will disappear and she will look years younger. Quite as strengthening as the cold water is the ice rubbing. Put a small lump in a clean linen cloth and pass it across the face in opposite directions to the wrinkles or fatigue lines.

How to Wash Colored Embroidery.

One method of washing colored embroidery is to put a handful of bran into warm water and leave the article to be cleaned in the water to soak, pressing it gently from time to time, but not rubbing it. When it is clean hang it until it is nearly dry and then stretch it on a frame and iron it.

How to Clean Sweet Grass Baskets.

When the fragrant sweet grass baskets that are bought in such quantities by summer tourists become soiled and lose their sweet scent, try cleaning them off with a cloth wrung out of lukewarm water. Do not use soap on them. The dampness not only cleans the reeds, but restores their fresh odor.

In the Midst of It.

wisely directed, will cause her to give to her little ones only the most wholesome and beneficial remedies and only when actually needed, and the well-informed mother uses only the pleasant and gentle laxative remedy—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—when a laxative is required, as it is wholly free from all objectionable substances. To get its beneficial effects always buy the genuine, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co.

No Substitute For Newspaper Advertising.

Advertising pays, if the man that has something to sell so regulates his advertisement as to convince the people that his store is the place to buy. All the substitutes for newspaper advertising are less effective. People do not stand looking at bill boards, and they do not bother with circulars in the mail on the doorstep because there are too many, but their old friend, the newspaper, is taken into the inmost privacy of the family circle, it is discussed at the supper table and again the next morning. It is read at leisure in the evening, and its pages are scrutinized with the interest born of long habit and discriminating taste. An advertisement in the newspaper goes into the family circle and cannot be excluded. It is welcome because it is a part of something else that is welcome, and it goes there at the very time when the occasional domestic economical council takes place. There is no substitute for newspaper advertising.

There is no newspaper in Janeville with a circulation ONE-FIFTH as large as that of the GAZETTE.

NO ESCAPE FROM THE TUNAS

Flying Fish and Sardines Rounded Up in Schools and Devoured by Hundreds.

I have observed, some curious scenes at sea, but never have I seen four so forcibly expressed as by a school of flying fishes exhausted and at the mercy of the voracious tunas, declared a correspondent of the Outlook Magazine. I have had them gather about my boat and cling to its keel as closely as they could, while the air was full of leaping tunas and soaring flying fish. At such times when a school of sardines is rounded up the fishes are so terrified that men have rowed up to them and scooped them in by the pailful.

I have stood in a boat when the air seemed literally full of fish, the tunas coming up with a rush from below, and endeavoring to catch the flying fishes with tremendous leaps. Sometimes they take them in midair; again they strike and knock them higher, bleeding or dead, or miss them altogether. But whatever the result, the tuna is never displaced; it makes the same spectacular jump, utterly unlike that of the swordfish, shark, or tarpon, returning to the sea head first with a graceful curve.

SET AVERAGE MAN THINKING

Could There Be Anything Gargantuan In What She So Quietly Set Forth?

"How and it is," said the Average Man to the Average Woman, "that you are a tremendous creature—considered, of course, from a purely impersonal standpoint."

"I am interested," said the Average Woman, "Pray go on—as far as you like. I'm in the mood where real candor is the only thing I care for. Why then, am I a tremendous?"

"Because of your limited range. For example, your conversation is exclusively confined to babies and bridge, servants and elgarities, clothes and cottons."

"How interesting!" exclaimed the Average Woman, "and how true! That suggests an idea. I shall reform."

"In what way?" She smiled ambiguously.

"Hereafter," she said, "I shall widen my range of thought to include business, sport, woman and the quality of tobacco and rum, interspersed occasionally by the telling of indecent stories."

The Average Man had nothing to say. Indeed, for the first time in his life he was actually thinking.—Life.

WORTH KEEPING IN MEMORY

Life's Lesson That, Well Learned, Would Lessen the Number of Unhappy Wives.

It is a lesson that men have apparently never needed to learn, that marriage is for life, not life for marriage, and that the world is teeming with other interesting things. It would make most wives vastly more capable, more interesting, and certainly happier if they could bear about with them the same conviction that the world is full of other interesting things. It would be hard to many an unsuccessful marriage. For, despite all the wisdom in the world, all marriages are not, and cannot be made, happy and successful, and certainly the fewer of these failures that are rung out for public adjustment the better.

Let men and women learn to make a workable compromise, and make the very most of the other interesting things in life. For, in the end, marriage as in life, we experience only ourselves. What we get out of life is just what we have put into it. And if any undertaking is a failure we might just as well bring it home to ourselves and say: "I am a failure along that line." For, of marriage as of life, I know no profounder truth than that we can experience ourselves.—Harper's Bazar.

Millions Invested in Trunkways. There is $200,000,000 invested in England's trunkways. The mileage is 2,391.

STILL A CHANCE.

"Have you ever loved and lost?" asked the sweet young thing.

"Not yet," replied the man who had been divorced three times.

Repertee Among Wits.

John G. Saxe, the poet, and Oliver Wendell Holmes were talking about brain fever, when Mr. Saxe remarked: "I once had a severe attack of brain fever myself." "How could you have brain fever?" asked Dr. Holmes, smiling. "It is only strong brains that have brain fever." "How did you find that out?" asked Saxe.

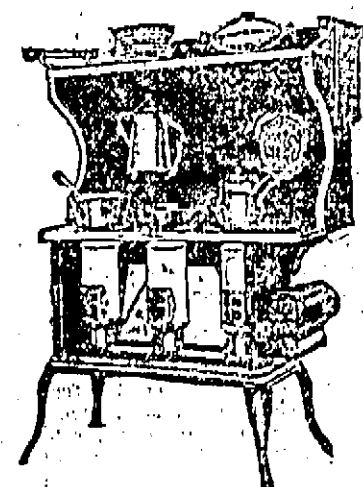

LOST THEIR CONFIDENCE.

"You say she is no longer editor of the Woman's Corner?" "No. She wrote so many articles on how to make over last year's hats that her readers began to suspect she was a man."

Natural Selection.

A singular freak of a tree is reported from Saint Omer, one of the suburbs of Brussels. In an avenue a sapling, which had been planted and was trained to a prop, has gnawed itself on to its support.

The theory that because a certain plan worked well ten years ago, it will do the same now, does not apply to advertising methods. Business has changed and people have changed since our ancestors traded stores, for overalls at the crossroads store, and the man who does not keep up to the minute with his advertising plans does not hit the mark except occasionally.

Wisconsin's Greatest Land Sale

A Wonderful Opportunity for Settlers and Investors to Secure Rich Farm Land in America's Greatest Dairy State

ON EASY TERMS

The enormous Wisconsin land holdings of the lumber interests are now at sale and are rapidly passing into the hands of settlers and intelligent investors. These rich lands, comprising over 500,000 acres, have been thrown on the market by the American Immigration Company of Chicago, Ill., at such low prices and on such easy terms that the whole country is aroused. The center of activity is in the famous Round Lake Country, in Racine County, where 150,000 acres, the very cream of ROUND LAKE WISCONSIN FARM LANDS, is being cut up into farms.

The American Immigration Company owns the land to sell to the thousands they offer to sell.

The prices run from $0.50 to $20 per acre, depending on the value of the standing timber, location, etc.

The land is sold on ten year's time. The soil is rich and yields abundant crops. On much of this land there is enough hardwood timber to pay for the farm. It is a country of abundant rainfall and the purest of water.

This is unquestionably the greatest cheap land opportunity of the century. Wisconsin land values are advancing by leaps and bounds.

The ROUND LAKE WISCONSIN FARM LANDS are going fast and the man who sits at the ground floor prices can make himself independent in five years. The time to act is NOW.

Two trunks, maps and full information can be secured by addressing the best representative of the American Immigration Company.
